SAYS PROGRESSIVE WEST RE-ELECTED MR. WILSON

Secretary McAdoo Asserts "Sinister Forces" Arrayed Against the President Have Been Laid Low.

Credit is given to the voters, men and women, of the west as progressive in spirit for the victory of President Wilson by Secretary McAdoo of the Treasury Department. In a statement issued today discussing the election he speaks of "sinister forces" arrayed against the President which have been laid low by "a verdict for America and humanity." The statement reads:

"The men and women of the progressive west have purified the fountains of democracy and strengthened popular government immeasurably by this victory. The defeat of the sinister forces arrayed against the President will have a wholesome effect upon the future of America for generations to come."

"This is a verdict for America and humanity; for the peace of justice; for democracy throughout the world. The President can now go forward with confidence and new inspiration. Momentous responsibilities confront him and the nation. The mandate of this election enables him to meet them with the united power and in the noblest spirit of the American people."

GOMPERS WIRE PRESIDENT.

President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor has sent a telegram to President Wilson at Shadow Lawn congratulating him upon his re-election. The telegram was as follows:

"Despite the most desperate efforts of entrenched power as represented by wealth alone with its blinded followers, the common people have stood the test and have proven true. The cause of labor, justice, freedom, American patriotism and humanity has been vindicated. The people and our republic are to be congratulated on your re-election as President."

ELATED DEMOCRATS GIVE VOICE TO JOY

Election Returns Given in Star Bulletins, Favorable to President, Gleefully Greeted.

"RATIFICATION" BY WOMEN

Democrats in Washington today were elated over the news of President Wilson's re-election. They had been confident yesterday that the final returns would show the democratic candidate in the lead, and when the report came from California last night that the President would carry that state, and that it was conceded by the republican state chairman, their joy was great.

The party adherents were out in force last night. Hundreds of them watched The Star bulletin board, on which the returns from the doubtful states were displayed. At short intervals, as the reports came in and the figures changed, and when democratic gains were shown, there was vociferous cheering, showing that the democrats were in the majority in the throng.

At the White House, where a presidential party has usually gathered to receive the returns of election night, there was little evidence of life. The chief of the election figures, now and then friends of the administration dropped in to get returns.

"Ratification" Meeting Held.

At the Women's Wilson Union, 15th and F streets northwest, a "ratification" meeting was staged. Democratic forces converged there, and the scenes were busy as the returns showed the President increasing his lead in California.

The evening many prominent democrats visited the union's headquarters and a number of them were called upon for speeches. Secretary Wilson of the Department of Labor addressed the enthusiastic crowd, speaking of the success of the administration in meeting the problems with which it has been confronted. He deplored the attacks made by the republicans during the campaign upon the foreign policy, the eight-hour law and other legislation of the administration. The criticism of the President's "note writing," he said, had been particularly unfortunate, and he added that if the foreign countries now at war had written a few more notes to one another, the world might have been spared a terrible conflict.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, also addressed the meeting, in which he predicted final victory for President Wilson at the polls.

Robert Harper, president of the District National Bank, in charge of raising funds for the democratic campaign in Washington, announced that $200,000 had been raised for the cause here.

James M. Cathcart, private secretary to Senator Fletcher of Florida, and president of the Wilson-Marshall Club of Georgetown University Law School, was telling the audience that before another dawn the entire country would know that Wilson had been re-elected, when word was received that California had made the re-election of the President a certainty.

F. N. Stacy, in charge of the democratic national headquarters, in the Hibbs building, Robert E. Mattingly and C. A. Bennett also were speakers. Mrs. J. H. Bozge, president of the Women's Wilson Union, was in the chair and introduced the speakers.

The Hughes Club, across the street from the Women's Wilson Union, also was open, and wires brought to the anxious republicans, many of whom refused to concede Wilson's election, the returns from California and the other doubtful states. There also was a gathering of women at the Women's National Republican Club, 1422 F street.

ELATED LEADERS GIVE VOICE TO OPTIMISM

Field Marshal French Sees Coming Crisis—Gen. Brussiloff Says War Is Won.

ASQUITH'S PEACE VIEWS

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, November 10.—Two optimistic views of the war, from the point of view of the allies are given a prominent place in the morning newspapers. The first is a quotation from the speech made at the lord mayor's banquet last night by Field Marshal Viscount French. The field marshal said:

"It seems that the contest is approaching a climax, to come either now or in the spring. We must remember, however, that a climax and an end are not necessarily the same thing."

Declares War Is Won.

The second opinion was expressed by Gen. Alex. Brussiloff, speaking to a British correspondent at a Russian headquarters. Gen. Brussiloff said:

"The war is won today. It is merely a question of speculation as to how much longer it will be before the enemy is convinced that the cause is irretrievably lost." The general added that he spoke with authority in declaring that the whole of Russia from the coast to the humblest soldier, was determined to protect, help and support Rumania in every possible way.

"Russia will see," he said, "that our little ally will not suffer for ensuring the cause of the allies."

Asquith Cites Peace Conditions.

The banquet of the new lord mayor of London, Sir William Henry Dunn, was given at the Guildhall last night and was attended by cabinet ministers, members of the diplomatic corps, including Walter Hines Page, the American ambassador, and men prominent in the military and naval world, among them Lord Fisher, chairman of the invention board; Arthur J. Balfour, first lord of the admiralty; and Sir William R. Robertson, chief of the imperial staff at army headquarters.

The leading speech of the evening was delivered by Premier Asquith, who, in alluding to peace, declared that nobody had greater reason than Great Britain to desire peace, but that it was desired on only one condition—that the sacrifices of the war should not have been made in vain. A feature of the speeches was the tribute of admiration on the stand made by Rumania, and the expression of the opinion that although the cause of Rumania had not yet been defeated, it had been successfully stayed.

Peace Must Be Secure.

Alluding to what he termed the propaganda conducted in Russia, to the effect that Great Britain's only desire to prolong the war and prevent any sort of peace was because she was making huge profits by exploiting her allies unscrupulously, the premier said:

"For us, who know what terrible sacrifices we are paying in precious lives, in the unceasing, pitiless drain upon our resources, potential promise and vitality of our people, we will not be long to long and pray for peace. Peace, yes, but one condition only—that the war with its vast waste, its sacrifice, its untold sufferings, its glorious and undying example of courage and unselfishness, shall not have been in vain."

"There can be no question of a separate peace, and peace, when it comes, be it soon or late, will not come from you for a moment my conviction that the struggle will tax all our resources and our whole life, and that we will resolve—the peace must be such as will build upon sure and stable foundations the security of the world, the liberties of Europe and a free future for the world."

GIVES CREDIT TO BRYAN.

R. N. Harper Sends Message of Congratulation to Nebraskaan.

"Accept my congratulations for the grand victory which you have won for the country by your forceful presentation of the achievements of the administration."

Mr. Harper pointed out today that for the last two months Mr. Bryan has concentrated his efforts in the usually strong republican states such as Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Minnesota and Montana.
